

Safeguard Poultry with NEOGEN® Rodenticide Rotational Program

We recommend the following rotational program to help ensure you get the best results from your rodent control efforts. Our recommendations are based on seasonality, rodent pressures and behaviors. These are recommendations that will suit most operations, however; some facilities may benefit from adjustments to this, for example if you're experiencing particularly high infestation. It's always best to keep in frequent contact with our experts to make sure you're on the right plan.
